Huddersfield Riding for the Disabled Group began riding at Bradshaw Road Stables in 2019, as a group we provide riding lessons for individuals with additional needs. RDA (riding for the disabled association) is a national charitable organisation, who celebrated 50 years in 2019, and since 1976 HRH The Princess Royal has been our President. The organisation provides horse riding lessons to disabled persons, which can include the different activities of riding, including jumping and dressage, also carriage driving. Each Group is self-supporting, responsible for its own funding, and our group is 1 of 20+ in the Yorkshire. Our particular Group was formed in 1974 and we offer riding and preliminary dressage to around 24 children and adults from in and around our area. Our aims are simple - to give each individual the chance to achieve their own personal goal - gain therapeutic benefit - learn a new skill – have fun. As bad weather conditions can adversely affect our riders, and our ability to provide riding lessons having the use of a covered arena would give us wider flexibility in allowing us to offer riding lessons when the weather is poor. The services RDA offer not only enrich the lives of our participants but also allow a space for parent and carers to come together, sharing personal experiences. Having indoor riding facilities would enable our group to ensure that we are able to commit to riding lessons, providing such vital support to these families week in week our regardless of the weather.
