The plan claims to support a greener, eco-friendly, sustainable ethos. However: <ul style="list-style-type: none"><li>- it removes a significant area of green space, (and the intricate network of ecosystems housed within), then fails to provide an adequate number of public recreational space.</li><li>- it fails to utilise basic sustainable features like solar panels and EV charging for residents and visitors.</li><li>- it threatens to expose residents and site works to radon, which is found in high levels in the earth in this area.</li></ul>
