I think this is a good plan, I am pleased to see that flood mitigation has been considered. I am also pleased to see that the homes will allow families to afford to live in pleasant and affordable accommodation. Four stories may be more sympathetic to the original mill conversion. I do think it will affect the amount of cars, and Newgate is a difficult crossing for school children. As a past resident of Ledgard Bridge, it would have been nice to see a large open space, however it may be more useful as housing is such a huge issue for young families. Better than the developments of houses built for profit for the big developers.
