This strip of land is like a small sanctuary for wildlife, it's the only 1 in this surrounding ever growing area and you're planning on taking it away, building on any scrap of land available you can. Not to mention spoiling views and making our area even smaller just so you can fill your own coffers with even more money without any regard to residents living here. You've done nothing for more than a decade with the front of this converted mill, leaving it to look like an eyesore and for the wildlife that now call the surrounding area home you wish to take what's left and ruin this area instead of turning it into something nice and peaceful place. There's a family of bats, a massive family of crows, badgers, foxes all live in this area and I personally think it's borderline criminal for you to ruin it with a 6 storey monstrosity over looking the river not to mention the flooding that takes place quite regularly these days. I think you should look else where to build your new ideas, make this into a nice friendly area where people can relax and take in the views and watch the wildlife in peace and quiet instead of just thinking of yourselves and your own pockets.
