As a person who lives on North Road, I know all too well how difficult it is to park near my house due to the amount of cars parking in the village every day. I have and often have to park a very long way from my house because of the parking issue in the village. If you put double yellow lines in the entrance to North Road from Penistone road where are the people who live in those houses supposed to park? They will have to park further into the village which puts more pressure on the parking situation in the village. It is not fair to take away their access to their houses. I also object to the number of houses been built as the local infrastructures are already at full capacity - doctors surgeries, schools etc. The entrance onto Pensitone Road from Storthes Hall Lane is not easy to navigate, especially turning right. If you want to add potentially hundreds more cars into this its going to cause problems. Not only this but there are already new developments been built on Penistone Road which will also add to the traffic problems. I do not support the destruction of woodland to create more housing. There is a huge development of residential housing already in existence at the site. The only advantage I can see to knocking that down, destroying woodland and building new houses is to line the pockets of the richest property developers, not to enrich the lives of local people or wildlife.
