The size of the building will block even more light than the existing wall already does. Industrial usage will involve noise, very close to all houses in the street. If windows on the street side, privacy will be infringed. I have had to endure a lot of noise already over the last few years that has caused issues while demolishing and building went on. This will be a building used for industrial purposed and longer term noise implications I have spoken to some of my neighbours and i believe they will also be commenting on this application.
