I strongly object to the plans for any building development on the land at Cuckstool Road. This land is designated urban green space and should remain so. All previous planning applications and subsequent appeals have been rejected. The plans put forward with "associated biodiversity and open space enhancements" seems almost laughable given that the land owners have already destroyed the natural habitat by removing trees, topsoil and hedges and continue to spray the land with chemicals. As a designated urban green space the land should be returned to its original state with trees replanted and walls rebuilt.
