A hand car wash is not an appropriate land use for a village setting. It is incongruent with the character of the area and will not improve the aesthetics of the village. An industrial site (similar to the one at Gelderd Road, Birstall) is much more appropriate. A hand car wash will create more traffic at an already congested stretch of road and will cause noise pollution for surrounding homes. This is also a busy stretch of footpath with the potential for spraying pedestrians. In addition there is huge potential for an increase in litter.
