Three points: 1. The elevation and its likely effects on sunlight and daylight on neighbouring properties due to its close proximity to residential housing 2. Being predominantly a rural area and considering its size and construction it will have/impose an effect on the character of the area which is predominantly built of stone and therefore its design and appearance should be in question 3. Impact on highway safety an issue here with the likelihood of heavy machinery movement (tractor shed) operating on a single track road (New Lane). The area is currently subject to road side walls being impacted and damaged with lorries turning etc on numerous occasions and quite recently too
