As evidenced by the huge outpouring of support from the people of Marsden previously, this business is hugely valued by our community. I, like most others, work outside of Marsden during the week. There is no way I can visit this business most days, as I do not get back to the village until 6:45. Due to Cafe Oi's incredible popularity, and Marsden's huge amount of weekend visitors, I foresee trying to get a table during the weekend being very difficult. This is a real shame, and I'm sure many others feel the same. This will also heavily impact their business and in the worst case, may make it impossible for them to survive. All other eateries on Peel Street open late, and there is no legitimate reason that I can see that it shouldn't be the same for Cafe Oi. They should be allowed to compete with other businesses, and the community deserve the opportunity to use this business. This is a restaurant and will not cause alcohol related disturbances.
