To whom it may concern,

I am writing to express my confusion about Oi Dumplings being disallowed a liquor license. As a long standing fan of their food, I would be disappointed to go for a meal out and be unable to purchase a drink to accompany my meal, like any other restaurant in the same area. It makes little sense that Oi Dumplings has been singled out, this isn't a rowdy bar or pub, it's a dumpling restaurant! Please deeply reconsider your justification for denying them a large means of income, businesses like this support the local community and as someone who lives nearby but not in Huddersfield, it is the sort of thing that would draw me into the town for a day or evening out to spend my money there.

Sincerely,
