Without being able to open past 6 the opportunity for the average worker to enjoy this food is simply taken away. There is no other restaurant of this kind within the area so to put restrictions on opening seems unjustifiable. The owners have taken the time to make the property fit in with the local area and it's a desirable enticement to the area of Marsden. In times where we need our economy to grow and our villages to survive these restrictions are making this near impossible.
