Oi dumplings has been a crucial part of our village since they first opened 2 years ago in their little cabin in Marsden. It has been a popular place to eat and continues to be so at 9 Peel Street just a stones throw away. It is such a shame that they are expected to close at 6pm and lose all of the evening revenue that they were used to at the cabin because of one person who chooses to live on a busy high street. The fact that most of the businesses on Peel Street also have flats above and none of these people have complained shows you that everybody else is accepting of the fact that a high street is never going to be silent like this person is expecting Cafe Oi to be. In these difficult times, how can we stop a restaurant from losing the majority of their custom by forcing them to close at peak time? Especially as no other business in Marsden has any restrictions on their opening times. Cafe Oi bring something different to Marsden and the women who run it are amazing people who love our village and just want to make a living like everybody else on our commercial high street. They are a very important part of Marsden and I fully support them opening later on in the evenings.
