Prior to this request for planning permission adjacent to fernbank a previous owner had his request rejected and further applications have been withdrawn. One of the reasons being exit onto the road. Since then the road has become much busier partly due to a new housing estate on Woodhead rd. The slip road to banks and onto far end lane is increasingly used to come into the village and schools. Has parking for construction vehicles really been considered? There is a small road opposite the proposed site, but this is a private road maintained and tarmacked by the residents and we would not be happy to find the builders using it for car parking and heavy vehicle turnaround Parking on the road would be dangerous. Not only does the land drop steeply but water drains down this to a lower level Has this been taken into serious consideration in the survey?
