As the proposed wine bar is , I am very concerned about the noise that will be generated. The noise outside other bars further down the road are a prime example of what we could have to put up with. For example, people standing in the street, drinking & being very noisy. Would this be agreed when giving planning permission? Would we have to resort to ringing the police every weekend, & complaining to yourselves regularly? The door should be kept closed, & under no circumstances should people be allowed to spill out on to the street. How many people would be allowed in at any time? Is there a fire escape at the rear? Please don't grant permission! I'm not against new businesses opening, but 5 bars on a small village street seems rather a lot.
