The property is going to be constructed using local materials which is obviously great for Marsden. The design of said property has also been planned with great consideration for the environment. It's going to be a personalised home too as one of the occupants has a disability, therefore meaning their intention is to live there for a very long time. Building this house will also make great use of a brownfield site and also replace an old barn which has become dilapidated over time and is now a potential safety hazard. The planner is a long time resident of Marsden who I believe has the best intentions for his home village.
