The existing roads leading to the site are very narrow and already congested. Some existing residents need to park on these roads as their properties do not have driveways, any increase in traffic from contractors lorries and private vehicles would make the area noisy, dangerous and heavily congested. The very narrow footpaths along these roads are used by local people and visitors walking to access the beautiful surrounding countryside which supports their physical and mental well being- any increase in traffic will make this an extremely dangerous leisure activity The area around the Broomfield site has many public rights of way and marked footpaths - again any traffic increase would be hazardous to walkers, prams, wheelchairs and children. These rights of way must be clearly marked and remain safe and easily accessible for now and in the future.
