Responding Ref:

There are no protected trees on or adjacent this site.

The plans look well planned out and have taken every step to avoid impacts on the surrounding trees. The most significant trees on site are situated towards the northern boundary and all plans but one corner of the temporary car park appear to be outside of the influence zone. The corner of the temporary car park is planned to be a permeable material and therefore shouldn't restrict the trees' ability to gain water.

The proposed vegetation buffer retains the majority of the boarder trees.

There appears to be very minimal change to the any of the existing trees and therefore there is no objection and no further comments.
