Has this proposal been made with the residential area in which it is being proposed in mind? There is a distinct lack of support and amenities in the area which will not be conducive to supporting or developing the young people, who will require a very high level of specialised support, to ensure they overcome childhood trauma in the best way. The building will not be suitable for managing children in care or providing the space and resources needed to meet their needs - e.g. just commenting that locks on doors and cupboards is all that is needed is worrying and indicates a lack of understanding about how best to support children who have experienced trauma. The lack of appropriate resources, location and space may cause further dysregulation to children living there, which may then impact the wider community. The application must be considered in line with other relevant legislation to ensure the young people, and community, are safeguarded appropriately and so the young people who may live there in the future can access the required level of support to meet their social, emotional, well-being and overall developmental needs.
