Details of the pre-application advice received

Further to our conversation with the town planner. We were told to fill in a nonmaterial amendment. We were told to do this because the architect John Carr, forgot to add the patio doors to the front and elevation and increase the roof height at the rear of the elevation

It is an important principle of decision-making that the process is open and transparent.

For the purposes of this question, "related to" means related, by birth or otherwise, closely enough that a fair-minded and informed observer, having considered the facts, would conclude that there was bias on the part of the decision-maker in the Local Planning Authority.
