I strongly object to these houses being proposed as they are within a well established graveyard, the rooms are grossly oversized which could allow more people to be living here than just 2 sets of households, it is not a spectacular area to live so cannot see how these houses can be sold for a profit in this area & who would want to live in a graveyard, these houses could be given approval & then multiple people move in, not stating the obvious but , especially as the hotel has just been refused in the centre of Dewsbury
