With reference to the above planning application I hereby object.

The applicant has already started the work and it's being going on for about 3 weeks or more.

The original application that was approved hasn't been built according to the plans, however as there was no contact address on the original application, no one was able to contact the applicant so it was ignored.

I do not agree that the drive should not be extended as there are more rooms downstairs and there is now no garage.

Also how can the applicant have a building inspector sign off on the original plans when he is based in London
