Gynn Lane isn't suitable for the amount of traffic already using it now at certain times of day ,adding another 100 to 150 cars will only add to the problem, you have done nothing to stop cars parking either side of the road at school drop off/pick up times which block residents drives and make access / departing extremely difficult which create a potentially serious road safety issue , also the garages on the local industrial estate seem to think that a large section of Gynn Lane is for there own additional parking area (sometimes leaving cars parked for months on end) just below the proposed entry to the site is a very narrow bend just below this point children access this section of Gynn Lane from the school to use the playing fields throughout the day, numerous other building sites are readily available in the area without building on this one which in my opinion is totally unsuitable.
