I have lived in my home for over 30 years and during that time my garden has always been private, a place where I could relax without being overlooked. The new access road and additional 51 proposed dwellings will completely take that away. Drivers, passengers, and pedestrians will be able to see straight into my garden every time they pass and the houses overlook my garden and into my property. On top of that, vehicle headlights at night will shine directly into my outdoor space and even into my house. This level of intrusion will force me to change how I live and use my property, something I never imagined I would face after three decades here.
