As the house directly adjoining the site, I will be exposed to extreme levels of disruption from demolition and construction. Heavy machinery, vibration, dust, and noise will directly affect my property on a daily basis. Once complete, my privacy — which I have enjoyed for over three decades — will be completely lost. The new access road will allow drivers, passengers, and pedestrians to see directly into my garden, while car headlights will shine into my home at night. This is an unacceptable intrusion into the private life I have always had here.
