This proposed facility is on the wrong site.

It is surrounded by residential housing, and Almondbury Bank is already a very busy road.

The increased traffic from the site already contributes to the noise and air pollution in the surrounding area with Wakefield Road becoming more busy by the year.

The peace and quiet of this neighbourhood will certainly be negatively affected. Potential safety hazards will increase. In addition, the road itself is in poor condition - not built to withstand such very heavy vehicular traffic on a daily basis.

I have also noticed that since the site was developed by the current occupants, vehicles accessing and leaving the site have split gravel and sand onto the road surface. There has also build up of debris (sand and gravel) in the centre of the junction of Wakefield Road with Almondbury Bank causing a potential hazard to motorist traversing the junction.

I am concerned about the dust created during the delivery of powdered cement which will be blown into a large storage silo before being transported to the mixing plant, will be picked by the prevailing wind which blows predominantly from the west towards the east causing a nuisance to local residents who enjoy their gardens furthermore, the local bowling club and allotments are in a direct line of site and will suffer from the industrial discharge.

The site is NOT suitable for the proposed application and should be rejected.
