The cafe is a locally run, independent business that serve responsibly sourced produce. We visit regularly and the seating outside is our favourite, and many other people's favourite, place to sit. The general clientele are respectful and we have never had a negative experience when sitting outside. Without this, I feel the venue would lose a lot of its appeal and may even negatively impact the business, especially as it's popular with the walking community on warm days.
