This property is in a private residential estate in which the up keep is to a high standard. I chose to move here so as to provide my children with a calm quiet caring and safe environment to grow up in. Some of my children have additional needs and therefore have an additional vulnerability factor. This is why I felt this environment and residential area would be good for them. I feel changing a home aimed at housing a family, into anything other than a home for a family or couple changes the area. Unfortunately research shows 'looked after' children are more likely to commit crimes and bring more criminal destructive behaviour to the area. It will appear more business like than homely. I'm also aware that something like this will lower the value of houses and the surrounding area and feel this is not beneficial to the area, and quite the opposite. The area is also surrounded by lots of woodlands, and would hate for the woodlands and nature to be destroyed by any antisocial behaviour this could bring to the area.
