When buying our property on Woodland Glade we signed a Deed of Covenant not carry out trade or a business from the dwelling. This Covenant also covers becoming a nuisance, annoyance or injuring part of the estate or its occupants. How is it then possible for a change of use to be granted to turn a house into a Children's Home for profit. The repercussions are many; visiting unstable family members, antisocial behaviour; additional traffic of care home staff and resulting parking pressure; unwelcome criminal attention; the loss of a family home and others if planning permission is granted. Our lovely community-based estate has attracted many elderly vulnerable residents. How have Temple Hive been allowed to publish details of this facility on their website prematurely ? Hardly a safeguarding measure for anyone!
