i am writing to object to this planning application for the following reasons for the last 12 years the market has been my main source of income .. i clear houses out for the residents of Huddersfield and sell re-useable and recycled items on the market . If the market closes down then it will in effect put me out of business , even when it reopens the council don't really want to run a flea market . But the busiest days on the market are the 2 second hand days , it will not just affect the traders but customers who cannot afford to buy new , are we not being urged to re use and recycle items for the good of society ? This will apply to most traders on the market for whom it is the main source of income , is it sensible to close a market which is always at full capacity , make hundreds of traders possibly redundant , to hopefully attract a new set of traders in the future ? how can a market that is always busy with fully booked stalls be improved upon ? The market is also an important meeting place for the thousands of customers that come week after week , an important social event for a lot of retired people .
