When looking at all the comments the only one siding with this application is someone who is in need of something from the builders and has something financially to gain from this. With this in mind, this comment/view should not be given weight in this application. Everyone who is objecting has given countless reasons from environmental factors, water issues, safety of the public etc which is what needs to be factored in here- not the fact that their wall hasn't been fixed.
