I object to the planning application. There has been various instances of disregard for the planning process, the business has been operating for a number of years, and the number of visitors and specifically cars using the bridleway for the shop and kennels has increased significantly, resulting in increased erosion of the bridleway, which is evident when it rains and it washes stones down the track to the junction of Red Lane and New Bridge Road. It is not only cars that are the issue, deliveries to the shop are made by 26 or 32 tonne HGV vehicles. It is a disgrace that such level of commerciality is being allowed in what is supposed to be an area of beauty in the Peak District. The top part of Red Lane/New Bridge Rd were not designed for such large vehicles. It's also not uncommon to hear dogs howling at any time of the day or night, it only takes one anxious dog to set a number of other dogs off - For local neighbours and residents it will undoubtedly disturb the peace that you would come to expect in a rural area.
