Dreadful idea. Bargate is a narrow road on which minor accidents occur due to the width and curvature of the road. Access is difficult enough. Traffic turning from Manchester Road into Bargate causes through traffic to back up at the best of times. There will be more idling cars polluting the environment as they run their engines whilst in standing traffic. Lorries needed to develop the site will add to traffic chaos. The area is a wonderful area of the natural environment and should be preserved; wildlife thrives in this area and families enjoy the natural environment. Why destroy a green area? There are brownfield sites within the local area that would be better suited for development.
