I moved into my home on Lea Lane four years ago with the intention of having some peace and quiet. I previously lived in a rural area, near to houses with dogs and the constant barking and defecating in the area was intolerable - hence me moving. Dogs barking from 8am to 8pm whilst being trained/walked would cause unnecessary sound pollution and isn't in keeping with the tranquility of the beautiful woods and fields, and why are the training sessions going on for 12hrs a day every day - far too extreme. The fields opposite my house also have sheep and cows grazing and in March onwards the sheep are lambing - surely dogs running about barking would cause untold stress on the sheep? Parking would also be an issue - the road is single use traffic only. Furthermore I enjoy watching the wildlife from my cottage on a daily basis and feel that the noise that will be generated from cars parking and dogs barking would impact my enjoyment and that of the wildlife too.
