I object to this development as it will likely entail a further 300 people moving to Mirfield where the infrastructure is already strained for instance NHS doctors and dentists are already difficult to pin down. Road safety is a particular concern with 150 additional vehicles traversing up very narrow roads where sometimes there is no pedestrian pavement (Hepworth Lane), sometimes pavement is only on one side of the road (Flash lane and Shillbank Lane) and some times where the pavement is deliberately laid so that vehicles can drive on it (Wellhouse Lane). I do not believe this development is suitable and will significantly increase risk for pedestrians.
