I would like to strongly object to Bellway homes proposal to make changes to the road markings in Woodward court and Wellhouse lane, Mirfield. The present road markings in wellhouse lane have been there for many years and served the purpose of safely controlling parking and general traffic during school times. The residents of Woodward Court have had no major problems with access to there property's and have no need for yellow lines restricting parking outside there homes. The one way exit from the proposed estate onto Hepworth lane is totally unsafe for construction traffic. If the traffic turns right it will be in contravention of a "not suitable for hgv" sign. Turning left onto Hepworth road is totally unsafe for general residents and road users due to the narrowness of the lane. Bellway have made no public consultation about these plans as should normally be done. These proposed plans show no concern for the safety of local road users and pedestrians It is blatantly obvious that Bellway only have one interest. that is getting there totally unsafe buildings passed for planing disregarding over 400 local residents objections.
