Slaithwaite is a great place to live, and we are really keen to be able to move here with our young family. The site at Clough Road is ideal for access to contribute to the thriving independent scene in the village. This is within walking proximity meaning the impact of traffic in the village should be minimised. The plans seem reasonable and do not appear to have a significant impact on the neighbouring properties. This developement will add to Slaithwaites appeal, it wont take away from it.
