I think this development will be a positive for the local area, as I am from that area originally and can never find a house to buy, this will bring me back in to the area where I am from. The local pub, where I still go to meet friends regularly, has swapped hands a few times in the last few years as there is not enough customers. Hopefully, the pub will stay open for years to come with more people in the area to provide custom. The local schools are no where near full as a report shows from last year, so this may help prevent one of them from closing.
