I am 12 years of age. I hope that the people my generation depend on to make decisions for our futures make the right ones. We need to protect trees and the environment and we need farmland to provide food especially due to world events such as those happening now. I love walking in these woods, they are quiet and animals are happy there, if houses were built next to the woods there would be lots of noise and more cats and dogs and people trampling in the trees.
