This area is greenbelt land and is therefore not appropriate to build on. Building near ancient woodland has the potential to lead to a reduction in biodiversity and 'sustainable homes' will not make amends for the damage that will be caused to the countryside by this building project. Aside from environmental issues, the local infrastructure simply will not cope with a building project of this size. There are already issues with drainage, sewage and electricity in the area; adding more houses will exacerbate the problem. Local people don't deserve this and furthermore, it is not fair to sell houses to people when they cannot be supported by the basic services required for day to day living.
