

The gate posts are quite substantial and not the easiest things to move.

We really do not want to touch them – but see next page for access details for anything other than a car.

I don't know if highways realise but there two access points as shown below (the applicant owns all the surrounding land and properties).

The bin men currently come in the top way, pick up at Oak Leas Cottage etc. and then down to Oak Leas Manor. It seems logical for this to continue. We have shown a bin collection point on the revised submitted plan (attached) which is shown on the above plan as well (star) – there is plenty of room to just drive around the building or turn round. Alternatively we will put it where the green circle is.
