The large tree on the site has already been partially removed, started in November 2025. When an adjoining neighbour complained about the safety of the removal after large branches had already fallen dangerously on his land, the process was finally stopped, leaving a half removed tree, all the detritus that accompanies that. The site has been left an ugly mess for 3 months. The tree removal was done with a ladder and chainsaw. It is a concern at this stage that no permissions were sought to remove the tree and no proper equipment was used and the dirty mess the site has been left in since.
