I highly support the planning application for Iglu Sauna to remain at Upper Mills for the next five years. Having a dedicated wellness space right on the edge of town is a massive benefit to the Slaithwaite community, in terms of both physical and mental wellbeing. The location is perfect! It offers a rare, peaceful, and natural setting that blends in with the trees and surrounding nature, while remaining incredibly accessible and close to the town centre and train station. Because it is so walkable, it actively encourages sustainable travel and healthy living without impacting local traffic. Iglu has successfully built a diverse, regular community by keeping its pricing affordable and has won awards to showcase this. It offers a vital space to switch off, relax, and connect with others, which is invaluable for a local community. Additionally, it brings people into Slaithwaite who then go on to support other independent trades and businesses, many locals and those from afar. It has a beautiful, low-impact, eco-friendly design, and I fully support its long-term stay.
