I'd like to show my support for Iglu Sauna and the application. It's a fantastic addition to Slaithwaite and a great use of the canal-side space. Although it's only a short walk from the village centre, it feels peaceful, natural and an escape from day to day life. Iglu offers real benefits for people's health and wellbeing, providing a welcoming space where people can relax, unwind, take time for themselves and connect with others. The site has been thoughtfully created using natural materials, planting and greenery that blend into the surroundings. It feels in keeping with the area and has a very low impact, with minimal noise, considerate lighting and an overall design that respects the local environment. I also really appreciate Iglu's focus on sustainability, encouraging visitors to walk, cycle or use public transport where possible. It's clear that a lot of thought has gone into creating something that benefits both the community and the environment. Overall, Iglu is a positive addition to Slaithwaite, bringing people together, supporting wellbeing and making great use of a beautiful space alongside the canal.
