I am writing to support the continued trading of "Bottle & Co in Denby Dale.

I have visited many times and have been impressed. In particular it seemed to host regular meetings such as a book club and other informal community groups. The Local cask ale varieties on sale are unusual and interesting and whereas I am not a huge craft ale fan, there appears to be an extensive range there.

What also appeals to me is a pleasant convivial atmosphere with all ages represented in the modest accommodation.

It has been mentioned that the owners are willing to compromise by closing the garden bar at 20:00. I think this is entirely reasonable as most licensed premises, especially those in built-up areas, close their outdoor areas at this time or shortly after.
