Rear elevation also showing property in front of our house (Crow Hill). The owners are happy with the proposal

Taken from the side of the house. Not overlooked on this or the opposite side of the house

View from the gate to the public footpath adjacent to the house. The field seen is part of our property

View from the public footpath in front of the house. The land seen is on our property

Front view of the house and existing porch

Front view of existing porch

Existing porch

Side view of existing porch from the left-hand side of the patio when facing the property

View of porch from the hall window

View of the porch from the bedroom window

Example of another property in the locality with similar porch

Similar type of design to our proposal though the door would be on the side
