This is a comment in support of the application. Planning has already been granted for an agricultural building to be situated within the applicants land, allowing the farm yard to be relocated. The buildings in the existing farm yard are dated and the general layout of existing residential properties along side the farm buildings lends itself to the development proposed. If the planning policy can be adhered to then this is an opportunity to not only create very attractive residential properties and improve the area aesthetically, but to create an efficient and modern farm yard that could be an asset to the applicants existing estate and be a positive move for the agricultural activity in this area.
