I have no comments on the actual panned development but I am concerned about how construction vehicles will access the site. Popley Butts which gives rear access to the development is a former farm track which forms the boundary to my property. It will not bear the weight of large ,heavily laden delivery vehicles. It is also narrow and the bank on our side belongs to us. In the past heavy vehicles have sunk on the track resulting in expensive repairs to our stone wall. The bottom stones on our side have been pushed out requiring dismantling and rebuilding the wall from its foundations. These issues have been avoided by either using access on Wessenden Head Road or de-canting materials and using smaller transport along the track. I trust that this will be taken into account.
