Biodiversity net gain

Biodiversity net gain is a legal requirement for planning permission introduced on 12 February 2024. All applications are required to either provide detailed information proving there will be a biodiversity increase; or explain why the requirement does not apply to the development.

Do you believe that, if the development is granted permission, the general Biodiversity Gain Condition (as set out in Paragraph 13 of Schedule 7A of the Town and Country Planning Act 1990 (as amended)) would apply?

◯ Yes
⊘ No

Biodiversity net gain has been introduced as a general condition for planning permission. As set out in The Environment Act 2021: "grants of planning permission in England [are] to be subject to a condition to secure that the biodiversity gain objective is met". Therefore, in England, all planning permissions are generally subject to biodiversity gain rules, unless they are specifically exempt or out of scope.

If you have stated that the biodiversity net gain requirement does not apply to your application you must provide the reason(s) why, and may also need to supply evidence (especially where you believe the application is eligible for the 'de minimis' exemption).

Please add all the reasons why biodiversity net gain does not apply and enter a justification for each one

Reason biodiversity net gain does not apply:
Retrospective planning permission

Please justify the reason why biodiversity net gain does not apply:
its a reroof of a property ,the materials used are accommodative of the conservation area the building currently exists in.

Note: Please read the help text for further information why developments may be exempt or not in scope.

Details of the pre-application advice received

I had urgently needed to contact somebody from the conservation design team , i had emailed the department with an urgent subject attached to the email as the client was expecting a swift reply and as a contractor i did not want to lose the works proposed.
A lady from the conservation design team had phoned me regarding the roof and she advised me that the building was not listed but in a conservation area and that she would prefer me to use a blue slate material to carry out the works.
I unfortunately didn't manage to catch her name during the process.

(a) a member of staff
(b) an elected member

It is an important principle of decision-making that the process is open and transparent.

For the purposes of this question, "related to" means related, by birth or otherwise, closely enough that a fair-minded and informed observer, having considered the facts, would conclude that there was bias on the part of the decision-maker in the Local Planning Authority.
