I fully support this application. My husband and I care for our two disabled children, and as I am unable to drive, having a mosque less than five minutes walk from our home would make a real difference to my life. Although my husband can drive to other mosques across town, it is not that straightforward for me. Our caring responsibilities mean I may need to return home quickly, so travelling further afield is not always practical. Having somewhere local where I can attend prayers would be a real lifeline and would allow me to take part in the community without being too far from home. I believe Al-Hira Centre is ideally placed to serve local people like me. It makes sense to make use of an existing community building rather than expect people to travel further or find another suitable premises. I hope Kirklees Council will support this application and recognise the valuable difference it could make to local residents and families.
